EDITORIAL

On Sunday the 20th of May, once again budgie breeders from across the state came together for the Logan Shield State Show. Exhibited were some of the best birds on offer from the 2017 season. I say some because I am fairly certain that a lot of good birds were left at home. I feel the timing of this year's national show has not been in our favour. Coupled with the fact that the season has drawn out longer than normal and so far, despite forecasts, has all the hallmarks of a drought.

Having said this, I take my hat off to those who managed to put birds up in very good condition. Congratulations to all those who had birds chosen to represent South Australia at the nationals in Penrith, New South Wales. Well done also to the N.E.B.S. members who had birds at the Logan Shield. Through your efforts we have managed to retain the shield for another year. Much to the dismay of my wife (or words to that effect) when I informed her that I intended to hang the shield on the lounge room wall!

Fast forward a week and you get the benefit of dragging one's feet writing an editorial. The nationals are over for another year! Congratulations to Troy Holmes and Jason and Wayne Weidenhoffer, both winning the classes of Greygreen and Clearbody respectively. The ever competitive Kakoschke and Rice with a second and third in Dominant Pied and Greygreen, and a well deserved third placed Dominant Pied to Dennis Lomman.

South Australia has managed to finish in 4th position, however with only 80 or so points in it, we were certainly knocking on the door of 3rd place. Perhaps next year!?

Speaking of which, this year's breeding preparations should be well and truly underway by now. Unlike yours truly. Breeding cages to clean, second cull birds to sought through and mental pairing of birds. This year I intend to increase the protein feed a few weeks prior to pairing up, just as an experiment, to see if there is any difference in results.

Good luck to everyone this coming season.

Graeme Alchin.
President.

RINGS

2018 Rings

I only have a small number of 2018 rings left.

As no additional rings were requested by members, NEBS did not place a supplementary order for additional 2018 rings.

As there will be no further ring orders, and once the remaining rings have sold, any member requiring additional 2018 rings will need to arrange for the transfer of rings from another member who has rings surplus to their requirements. Any transfers are to be in multiples of 10 and are reported to the ring officer.

2019 Ring Issue

Rings (Black) for 2019 will be available as from 15 December 2018.

BLACK EYED SELF: BIRD OF THE NIGHT FOR JULY

There are now four self-coloured varieties listed in the Matrix: Black Eyed Self, Ino (Lutino in the Green Series and Albino in the Blue Series), Dark Eyed Clear (Dutch or Clear Flighted Dominant Pied and Recessive Pied composite) and Spangle Double Factor.

Similarities and differences are as follows:

Feature	Black Eyed Self	Ino	Dark Eyed Clear	Spangle Double Factor
Markings	Faint	None	None	None
Cere (cocks)	Blue	Flesh	Flesh	Blue
Eye colour	Dark	Red	Dark	Black
Iris ring	Yes	Yes	No	Yes
Tail quill	Neutral	White	White	Neutral
Cheek patch	White suffused pale violet/grey	White	White	Silvery white

The self-coloured exhibition birds are from the Green and Blue Series. The Yellow Faced Blue Series in the self-coloured budgerigars are not competitive on the show bench due to their yellow body colour suffusion. They can only win if competing against Green and Blue Series birds of vastly inferior Type. That is how it has always been irrespective of where the Yellow Faced Blue has been located in the Matrix.

UPDATE ON BUDGERIGAR IMPORTATION AND TIMEFRAMES

The department is progressing preparation of the draft report for the review of importation of psittacine birds (household pet, non-commercial and zoo). The assessment has been complex for several reasons, outlined below, which has caused minor delay to the anticipated release of the draft report.

The review has considered 60 pests and diseases of psittacine birds and retained 16 of these for further assessment. Of these, at least half have been found to pose an unacceptable biosecurity risk to Australia. The department is considering what risk management measures can be implemented for these pests and diseases to reduce the biosecurity risks to an acceptably low level.

Risk management measures may include pre-export and post-arrival quarantine, testing, treatments and inspections. A number of diseases of biosecurity concern can be carried by psittacine birds that appear to be healthy, emphasising the need to determine suitable risk management measures. Any proposed measures also need to be practically and financially feasible for exporters, importers and the department.

The assessment is further complicated by the need to consider potential biosecurity impacts on a range of exposure groups including captive birds, Australia's unique wild bird populations, Australian poultry industries and humans.

Due to the complexities of the assessment and based on progress to date, the department expects to release the draft report for public comment in early 2019. If a change of government occurs around this time then the above will likely change.

Food and Feeding Exhibition Budgerigars

By Bob Deverson

PART 7: The Budgerigar's Digestive System, Mineral Grit and Charcoal

The bird's digestive system consists of the crop, which is where food passes after being swallowed; the stomach, the gizzard, and the intestines. The crop at the base of the throat is a bag in the food pipe which bulges after feeding; it is in the crop that the first stage of food processing takes place by action of the saliva. The gizzard is a dark red organ with strong muscular walls which acts in a similar way to the stomach, churning the food up in a mush ready for the action of the intestines.

Mineral grit: is retained in the gizzard and, aided by the muscular action of the gizzard walls, helps to grind up the food. The grinding process will still take place without any grit being present, but not very effectively; which means the bird is not getting full benefit of the food eaten. A good quality mineral grit is essential in the budgerigar's diet. Too fine and it may cause compaction of the gizzard but it is also important not to be too coarse. Pigeon grit for example is very coarse and not suitable for budgerigars. To date: no serious or scientific studies have been conducted on the value of mineral grits for budgerigars. All recommendations are based on the experiences of individual breeders or anecdotal evidence of successful formulae. Mineral grit should never be considered as a source of minerals.

Charcoal: is a non-digestible natural source that aids in the creation of oxygen in the blood and absorbs toxins in the bird's stomach and intestines. A reduction of toxins means that the digestive system can work at its optimum, facilitating better food conversion. Being a natural part of every creature's environment, it is used abundantly by birds in the wild to reduce the effects of toxins in their diet. The addition of charcoal adds to the value of any grit made available to budgerigars and the birds wellbeing.

Water: Budgerigars need water for every chemical process of the body. They cannot carry excess of it and the amount retained is very small. Without water budgerigars will rapidly become distressed leading to gaping, panting, convulsions and death. A lot of water is lost in the respiratory system and cannot be controlled, and it drastically increases if the bird becomes distressed. A small amount is lost in the urine and faeces but it is regulated mainly by reabsorption in the large intestine.

One hopes that this series of articles has been of benefit to my fellow breeders of budgerigars. It is an accumulation of many years of breeding these wonderful, gregarious and fascinating birds, plus a twenty year involvement in the seed and grain industry specialising in bird seeds.

Bob Deverson

[Editor note: This series of short articles originated from the one long article contributed by Bob].

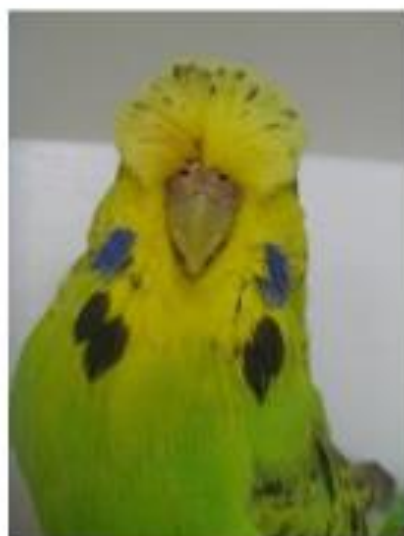

FLECKING AND TICKING

The proposal arising from the National Judges Meeting at the national show in Penrith in 2018 is that as of January 1, 2019, heavy flecking (as shown in the following photographs) will be disqualified on the show bench, with light flecking penalised (as with any quantitative feature on the exhibition budgerigar, the greater the departure from The Standard the heavier the penalty) with a view to light flecking being eventually eliminated some years down the track. These are preliminary pictures with the final presentation to be ratified by the National Colour and Standards Committee, so these should be regarded at this stage as interim pictures for guidance only. They are presented at this time to assist breeders with their pairings as we approach the breeding season.

Minutes of the North East Budgerigar Society General Meeting

HELD: Kilburn Hall, 49 Le Hunte St. Kilburn on Wednesday June 13, 2018

Normal proceedings were suspended for the night to concentrate on bird sales.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

1. Programs for club monthly meetings for the 2nd half of the year on the table to take.
2. The June club magazines for members who don't receive it electronically were available out the front.
3. Our club AGM will be held during the August 8 meeting so nomination forms for Committee positions were on the table.
4. The Logan Shield this year was won by NEBS. Thank you to NEBS members who entered birds in support of our club. Rosettes were handed out to members who had birds placed at the National Show in Penrith.
5. The BCSA Auction and BCSA AGM (AGM at 9.00am) will be held Saturday July 21 at the Enfield Community Centre. Deadline for details of birds to be included in the auction to be sent to Dennis for inclusion in the catalogue is next Monday, June 18, with the catalogue to be finalised soon after that and placed on the BCSA website well ahead of the auction date. John will send out the cage stickers to vendors and organise who does various jobs. Anyone without electronic access to the catalogue and attending the auction can see John for a hard copy of the catalogue before the day of the auction.
6. Entries for the Fisher Annual Show close on Friday. Show schedules were on the table. The show will be held here on Saturday June 23.
7. Stan Watson Breeder Show schedules were received from BSSA and placed on the table to take.
8. Vetafarm have sent multiple copies of their magazine which were on the table to take home, as part of a new show sponsorship deal between the club and Vetafarm.
9. Correspondence: BRASEA Autumn Bulletin on the table to take, Zoo Times on the table to take, Feathered World Newsletter on the table to take.
10. The BCSA is looking for volunteers to coordinate various aspects of the National Show to be held in Adelaide in 2021. Coordinators are needed for Media, Show management, Finance and budget, Registrations, Electronics, Photography, Security, Team Travel, Website, Tourism, Bird room setup, Transport of show equipment, Stewarding and fundraising. The question was asked are there any volunteers for any of these roles apart from Dennis, John and Graham Bell? Nobody responded either on the spot, or later, after the meeting.
11. Peter Glassenbury said a few brief words about Colour and Standards matters, primarily involving changes to Penalty and Disqualification clauses involving flecking and the Golden Face.
12. Attendees were asked to please make purchases from the Trading Table before looking at the birds as the Trading Table will close early so that everyone can concentrate on the bird sale. The Trading Table Officer compiled a breeding record book for sale at $10 and will take orders for a poster of national winning birds which will cost $20.

13. For your information, soft drinks are available from the kitchen for $1.50.
14. Bird Sale: (Inspection and offers to be made for about the next half hour).
- Starting price – breeder's choice as written on the cage. Spare biros are available for anyone who forgot to bring one
 - Minimum increment is $5 but not restricted to $5 if you really want the bird
 - Time will be called after about half an hour during a window of no buyer activity
 - About 10 minutes notice will be given before calling time
 - Finishing time will be called without notice and the name of anyone who writes a bid down after time is called will be crossed off
 - Seller is to sign and write paid on the tender form when their money is collected
 - Seller is to move the bird from their cage to the buyer's cage
 - Any bird not attracting a bid can be sold at any time at any negotiated price after time is called
 - Decanting area – tables will be placed in front of the staging after time is called
 - Get started!
15. NIGHT RAFFLE: First: Diana Trevarthen; Second: Ian Marshall; Third: Michael Sloper.
16. LUCKY ENVELOPES: None filled.
17. REMINDERS: Members don't forget to pick up your magazines from out the front and for anyone the various handouts are on the table by the door to take before you leave tonight.
18. NEXT MEETING: Wednesday July 11 which will be an electronic slideshow and commentary of the winning birds at the national show that was just held at Penrith, in NSW. Bird of the month will be Black Eyed Self.

INCOME REPORT FOR NORTHEAST BUDGERIGAR CLUB FOR 2017-2018

Hi Everyone, Well it's that time of year again. I hope you are all well and have started your breeding program for 2018. We did really well with our income from our various raffles as usual, so thank you to everyone who bought/sold tickets. However, we are always on the look-out for donations for prizes to keep costs down. Anyone know a butcher☺ Expenditure on the trading table was up, but as Michael gets the idea on how it works, this should even out. Show costs are up due to extra rosettes & prizes for our shows. Magazine costs are coming down as more of you get your magazine emailed, so thank you. Unfortunately we ran at a loss this year, but as we had a good start in the last financial year with a profit, our finances are still o.k. I hope to see you all at the next meeting.

Vicki Sanford, Treasurer NEBS.
